Service Vote May Affect Results in Nine B.C. Ridings

Latest Standings Show Coalition With 35 Seats, C.C.F. Nine and Labor One

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (CP).—British Columbia's Coalition Government, assured of another term in office, awaited tonight the results of the active service personnel vote, an unknown quantity, which might affect the results in nine constituencies.

Of the nine seats, five have been conceded to the Coalition, one to the C.C.F. and three are doubtful, but even if the Government party of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives lost all five seats, it would still have a comfortable working majority in the new Legislature.

Provincial returning officers have refused to estimate the total registered service vote, expected to be announced late tonight or tomorrow, but unofficial estimates have ranged as high as 60,000. Votes of service personnel who did not register will be announced November 15 or soon after that.

Without the service votes, Premier John Hart's Coalition Administration was given a clear-cut mandate by the civilian electors yesterday to proceed with its reconstruction program and continue its "sound, business administration."

Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. leader, scored a personal victory in Vancouver East but nine of his C.C.F. seats in the last Legislature were lost to the amalgamation of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives as the citizens turned down the C.C.F. promise to institute Socialism as far as possible provincially. The C.C.F. had a net loss of six seats.

The latest standing on the basis of the civilian vote follows, with strength in the last Legislature in brackets.

ELECTED
Coalition 35 (30)
C.C.F. 9 (15)
Labor 1 (1)
Doubtful 3

The three doubtful seats were split with the Coalition leading in Comox, the C.C.F. in Omineca and both parties tied in the two-man contest in Atlin.

The Coalition total of candidates whose election was conceded on the basis of the civilian vote was increased by one to 35 today when W. J. Johnson gained a sufficient margin over his C.C.F. opponent, Vancouver.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London
News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1945, by Southern Co.)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—The diplomatic correspondent of The Times, commenting on the Anglo-French talks now in progress in London on the future of the Rhineland, referred to the British concept for reaching an agreement in postwar European affairs as an endorsement of regional collaboration as the basis of secure peace.

The French proposal is that the Rhineland should be made a permanent zone of Allied security, with France having the chief voice.

It also proposed that the Ruhr industrial area should be under wider Allied control to ensure permanent security and general European use of Ruhr coal and other products.

The discussions which are intended to prepare the way for closer Anglo-French understanding and co-operation in this sphere are going forward satisfactorily, according to the correspondent.

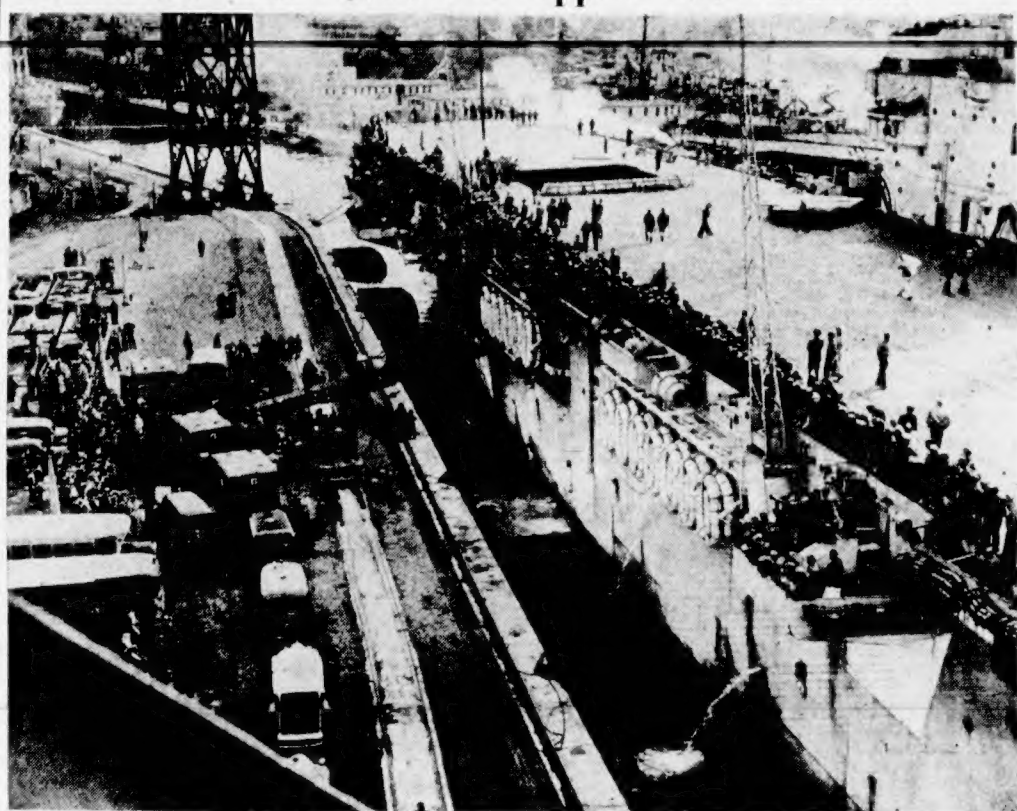

In spite of opposition and other criticism of the budget as a whole, it must be accepted as constructive and wisely conceived. But approval of the budget as a whole can not mean that specific criticisms should be considered any the less seriously.

The Times sets forth a list of these specific criticisms concerning relief which it feels might have been given and were not. They cover the same broad ground as Sir John Anderson outlined in the House during the debate which The Times feels should be remedied next April in the next Labor budget.

When More Than 1,000 Men Appear but a Handful

More than a thousand men appeared to be but a handful when lining one side of the huge flight deck of H.M.S. Glory, light aircraft carrier, seen above, which docked at the Government jetty, Esquimalt, yesterday morning with 1,391 British and Canadian liberated prisoners of war. The picture, taken from a stationary crane at the drydock prior to disembarkation, reveals the feasibility of two hockey games being played at one time on the flight deck, a popular pastime among the returning ex-prisoners. A few of the buses and ambulances used to convey the men to Gordon Head Camp, Fort Macaulay and Victoria Military Hospital can be seen at the lower left. Adding to the enthusiastic welcome given the repatriates were the Navy Band and Esquimalt Garrison Band.

Dismantle Nazi Bearing Plants

SCHWEINFURT, Germany, Oct. 26 (AP).—The ball-bearing plants of this city, where more than 1,000 Americans went down on bombing missions, are being dismantled today for reparations.

Negotiations in East Indies Near

BATAVIA, Oct. 26 (AP).—Prodded by both British and American diplomatic representatives, Dutch and Indonesian leaders appeared closer tonight to negotiating on their differences in The Netherlands East Indies.

H. J. Van Mook, acting Governor of the islands, was reported to have asked President Soekarno of the "Indonesian Republic" to meet with him at the home of Lt.-Gen. Sir Philip Christison, the British military commander.

A reliable source said Van Mook was ready for exploratory talks. Formation of an interim Government with the Dutch in control was seen as a possible outcome. The price the Indonesians would ask for joining such an administration would be the setting of a definite date when they could achieve complete independence.

The Indonesians have asked for the United States to act as a mediator. The Dutch, at first wanting to settle with the Indonesians alone, now seem to prefer British as a third party.

Commits Suicide

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 26 (Reuters).—Col. Alko, former commander of Japanese forces in Northern Sarawak and Brunai, in Northern Borneo, has committed suicide, an army message from Labuan Island said today. Alko was found hanging from the ridge pole of his tent in a prisoner of war compound in Labuan.

The bomber caught fire when attacked by a German fighter. Despite injuries from shell splinters in his shoulders and right leg, Jackson volunteered to climb out on the wing to "quench the flames. His face, hands and clothes were badly burned and he was forced to bale out in his blazing parachute.

Jackson was taken prisoner after suffering serious injuries in landing from which he has not yet fully recovered. The citation described his act as "an almost incredible feat."

The plane finally was abandoned. Four other members of the crew landed safely while two were lost.

H.M.C.S. Crescent Is Due Here Today

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent is scheduled to arrive at Esquimalt today with one officer and 80 other ranks from the Far East, according to a Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa last night.

H.M.S. Glory Brings 1,391 Ex-Prisoners

British Light Aircraft Carrier Docks at Esquimalt With Men From Japanese Camps

Lining the flight deck of the British light aircraft carrier H.M.S. Glory, 1,391 liberated Canadian and British prisoners of war from Japanese camps scattered along the Asiatic coast encountered the first Empire soil in four years yesterday morning when the big ship docked in Esquimalt Harbor.

As the 23,000-ton vessel slipped into the harbor, sirens and whistles of naval vessels joined in noisy welcome with the cheers of naval ratings lining their decks.

Other crowds of naval and military personnel cheered from H.M.C.S. Naden jetty while the R.C.N. and Esquimalt Garrison Bands alternated in a welcome, partly making up for the usual large crowd which was forbidden entrance to the dockyard in order to facilitate unloading.

Every available ambulance in Greater Victoria was lined up ready to receive stretcher cases, who were the first to be disembarked.

The liberated men were picked up in Manila on October 9 and after a one-day stop at Honolulu for storing and refueling the ship came direct to Victoria.

Of the 1,391 repatriates aboard, 187 are Canadians from the Royal Rifles of Canada and the Winnipeg Grenadiers, who left exactly four years ago today for Hongkong. Thirty-six Canadians were hospital cases recovering from sickness brought on by semi-starvation at the hands of the Japanese.

Seventy stretcher cases were included among 1,115 British Army men, and one case among 61 Royal Navy ratings. Others aboard included 24 Indian Army, four British Merchant Navy, 22 British civilians and four Canadian civilians, one hospitalized.

Commanded by Capt. Anthony W. Buzzard, D.S.O., O.B.E., R.N., H.M.S. Glory was built at the Harland & Wolff plant, Belfast, and was commissioned last February. Leaving England three days after "V-E" Day, she arrived at Sydney, Australia, one day after "V-J" Day.

The Glory and her crew of 1,300 were chosen to attend the surrender ceremony marking the close of operations by the Japanese Southeastern Army, which had operated in New Guinea, New Ireland, New Britain, the Solomons and Bougainville.

In St. George's Channel, midway between New Britain and New Ireland, General Imamura and his staff signed the surrender terms on the flight deck of the carrier, just ahead of the island.

Layoff notices have been received by approximately 475 employees during the past week, Yarrows Ltd. officials disclosed last night.

It was explained that notices were being given to the workers as "a follow up of termination of war contracts."

The number of employees to receive such notification is in addition to 286 who ceased work last Tuesday. Workers of all trades have been affected. Those remaining will work on various repair jobs.

Two other Edmonton packing plants, Burns & Company and Canada Packers, Limited, and members of the U.P.W.A., already have voted in favor of a walkout unless current demands by workers are met by the companies at the Winnipeg meeting now in progress.

Not Agreed Upon Jewish Problem

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP).—A Foreign Office spokesman indicated tonight that complete agreement has not been reached by Great Britain and the United States on Jewish immigration into Palestine, reported to be the main topic at today's Cabinet meeting.

Prime Minister Attlee is to state the Government policy about Palestine in Commons next week.

Heavy Attack By Anamites Is Beaten Off

SAIGON, Oct. 26 (AP).—Annamese forces launched heavy attacks against Indian troops north of Saigon Thursday night, but were beaten off upon the arrival of reinforcements, a Southeast Asia Command communique said today.

No casualty figures were given. Elsewhere, British and French troops reported comparative quiet as they methodically cleaned out areas where the Annamese are contesting French rule in Indo-China.

French forces occupied Myittha and Tanan without opposition and announced that two police posts had been re-established in Cholon after a brief skirmish.

Two gendarmes and a civil service official were wounded by a grenade, the French said. Indonesian and Chinese hystanders were killed by French rifle fire.

British troops arrested a large number of Annamese and seized a quantity of arms and ammunition in the Cholon area.

DEMAND DEATH

BUDAPEST, Oct. 26 (AP).—Death by hanging for Hungarian black marketeers and food profiteers will be demanded at the next Cabinet meeting, Istvan Alesz, Minister of Justice, said today.

National Bond Sales Continue To Smash All Previous Records

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 (CP).—The response of Canadians to the Ninth Victory Loan appeal for $1,500,000,000 to aid the Government's reconstruction program and avoid the dangers of inflation showed no signs of weakening tonight as record-breaking totals continued to pile up at loan headquarters here.

The cumulative total for the first four days, announced today, stands at $319,624,200, split almost evenly between individual purchases of $167,577,600 and business investments of $152,046,600. Thursday's sales were $87,548,850, compared with $78,243,850 on the same day of the Eighth Loan.

Thursday's large investments were topped by the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co., Toronto, with a purchase of $12,000,000. Investors' Syndicate, Minneapolis, and Investors' Syndicate of Canada, Ltd., Winnipeg, $1,000,000.

The Royal Canadian Navy now is 19 per cent ahead of schedule, having raised $3,335,200. Pacific Command tops the list with 237 per cent.

"A splendid showing! Keep up the good work!" said a message to all personnel of the Canadian Army from Lt.-Gen. C. Foulkes, chief of the general staff, when he learned that the troops at home and overseas had raised past their objective and invested $20,000,000 or 148 per cent of the army's $13,500,000 aim.

M.D. 13 (Calgary) forged into the lead in the coast-to-coast army competition, with Pacific Command (Vancouver) second.

Sixty-one per cent above objective soars the Royal Canadian Air Force, with $10,455,800 raised to date.

Army hospitals held Ontario's bond spotlight today. At the Malton Hospital of 300 beds, staff and patients have left their $12,000 quota far behind with sales well in excess of $42,000.

Damage Soars as 90-Mile-an-Hour Winds Hit Britain

Fear 20 Persons Dead—Liner Queen Mary Among Big Ships Tossed by 50-Foot Waves

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP).—A four-day-old storm, the worst in 20 years, struck again today with sustained fury at the British Isles and Western Europe.

Four ships sank. Great liners and small boats bobbed like corks in mountainous seas and scores of additional mines broke loose from charted but unswept minefields, imperiling shipping and the coasts alike.

Property damage in the flooded, wind-lashed coastal areas soared while 20 were dead or feared dead on land and sea. Spectacular sea rescues kept the toll from mounting much higher.

Ships riding out the 90-mile-an-hour gale at sea, unable to make port and imperilled by mines and 50-foot waves, included the 81,000-ton Queen Mary, with 1,029 passengers aboard. A mail tug battled its way to the liner in Southampton water late today, but no passengers were removed.

Residents of the Isle of Wight, from where the Queen Mary was visible, said she was tossing in a savage mass of tumbling water and high spray, the sea tossing against her sides and cascading over her superstructure.

Due at Southampton Thursday, the Queen Mary refused the would not attempt to make port till tomorrow.

Other big ships held at sea by the storm included the liner Empress of Australia, with 1,175 passengers, and the Antenor, both British repatriation ships, off Liverpool, and the Channel steamer Isle of Jersey, carrying 600 off the Channel Islands.

Whether the address, the President's second of the day—he will speak in the morning for nine minutes at dedication of the new aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt—will deal with possible international measures to prevent a third world war, this time one employing the atomic bomb, was one of the first points raised. On this the White House was silent.

Seattle, Oct. 26 (AP).—Two men died of heart attacks today while rowing in the flood waters of Northwestern Washington rivers which left their banks after a 24-hour rain, flooding at downstream in farms and communities and washing out bridges to close five schools.

The storm moved east tonight and the weather bureau forecast snow and freezing temperatures in the Cascade mountains, which the people of Snohomish, Whatcom and Skagit counties look as a promise of relief from the floods.

Lyle McNeil of Auburn succumbed while rowing to the aid of three unidentified men in another boat near Sedro-Woolley. Louis Belchard, 37, of Utopia, died in his boat while trying to retrieve a drifting skiff.

The Stevens Pass highway across the Cascades, blocked by high water at Snohomish, was reopened. Heavy overflow which swamped lowlands along the Pilechuck and Nooksack rivers were subsiding.

Representatives of the City Council and the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council were present at the meeting.

Establishment of a modern fishermen's wharf, dock improvements, and other harbor issues were also discussed.

A representative of the committee will leave for Ottawa today to discuss the issue with R. W. Mathew, M.P.

Bevin Warns of Dangers in Europe; Epidemics May Come

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—A stark picture of human misery that is Europe in the wake of history's greatest war was painted in the House of Commons today by Foreign Secretary Bevin as he warned of coming hunger and privation that may cause a more devastating than the gun or the atomic bomb.

Speaking in a debate on economic conditions in Europe, the Foreign Secretary told a sober Commons:

"While the Channel can be used to stop Germany, it cannot stop germs. You cannot limit the devastation of an epidemic by a frontier of a strategic post."

Warning of the danger of a "terrible epidemic" this winter in Continental Europe, Mr. Bevin commented that if the United States Congress fails to grant the requested additional $1,600,000,000 for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, UNRRA, "will be broke and the situation we will have to face in a few weeks' time will be disastrous."

He added, however, that he could not discuss UNRRA further as the appropriation at present is the subject of debate in Congress.

The recent UNRRA conference in London asked that member countries allot $1,800,000,000 for next year's work. Herbert H. Lehman, director-general, has said that if the funds are not available, UNRRA must be liquidated "with a minimum job only half completed."

UNRRA representatives at the Food and Agriculture Organization Conference in Quebec said yesterday they were pressing for immediate contribution of the second year's allotment, none of which has yet been paid.

Exporting countries must make a greater contribution to Europe's food problems, Mr. Bevin continued, saying:

"I should like to see much less wheat being fed to livestock in North America and more corn and other foodstuffs shipped from South America. But here you are in a difficulty. There is a great political difference with regard to the Argentine. My information is that the Argentine is burning corn now for fuel because she cannot get heavy oil. If we could put heavy oil and fuel into the Argentine and take the corn from the Argentine for the United States, Canada and Britain and then divert wheat to the people of Europe, it would be a perfectly commonsense thing to do."

"But again, politics intervene."

When the Foreign Secretary finished his address, Sir Arthur Salter, Independent M.P., who was adviser to the Churchill Coalition Government, urged the new Labor Administration to make "a strong and urgent appeal" to the United States and Canada to join with Britain in alleviating hunger and distress in Europe.

He said the British Government should appeal to our "Trans-Atlantic Allies" to give priority over allocation to the home-civilian population for food and clothing, excess of pre-war average consumption. Sir Arthur added he did not suggest that Britons reduce their standard rations or stocks; Michael Foot, Labor, said Russia should associate itself with Great Britain in making representations to Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary about the deportations of Germans which he said was "wanton and deliberate creation of a new sore when all Europe is crying out from her wounds."

Britain herself could do "very little" to relieve conditions in Europe, said Mr. Bevin who blamed the present situation upon the Nazis' policy.

Everything was being done to feed Germans in the British occupation zone, but this had to be "balanced against the resistance of our people to the cutting of their supplies."

Mr. Bevin said 14,000,000 or 15,000,000 persons were "moving at once" in Eastern Europe. Ten million of these were displaced persons, labor slaves and prisoners of war.

"No one knows how many Germans have gone to work in Russia," said the Foreign Secretary.

Coal production in the Ruhr had increased from 1,200,000 tons in June to nearly 3,000,000 tons in September, but no coal was available in Germany for domestic cooking or heating. "It is all needed for

Promise Protection If Bonds Bought

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A touch of Halloween has been added to the door-to-door canvass for the Victory Loan drive by high school students here. They are promising all bond buyers protection against Halloween pranks and they will clean any schools, institutions and industries.

To avoid disaster this year, demands for wheat made by the British and American zone commanders in Germany must be met "but it must come from the territory where the wheat is—there is no other way."

The only way to feed Europe properly, said the minister, was for the surplus areas in the east and center of the continent to feed the industrial areas. Mr. Bevin continued:

"It might be said we were wrong to develop zones (in Germany). I think probably now, looking back, it would have been better if we had not done that, but there are very grave political considerations which I do not want to introduce into this debate continuously except to say that you cannot eradicate in the middle of a war when armies are likely to reach, confusion and all the rest of it. Unless you draw some line where you are going to stop, in every tight it is more easy to enter it than to stop."

"I hope and long for the day when all nations will put their trust in a world organization, because I don't think that frontiers and spheres of influence are as important as they used to be. I don't believe the transfer of territories means so much in security, but there it is: nations who have been attacked look for security."

Concluding, Mr. Bevin said that although he did not want to ruin the peaceful industry of Germany, he was entitled to ask for a "reasonable insurance policy" against a warlike nation like Germany. He did not amplify his remark.

Labor Situation In U.S. Better

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (CP)—The United States Government looked with greater optimism on the troubled labor scene today in spite of new and serious strike threats in major industries.

While more automobile workers voted in favor of strike action to support wage increase demands and the wage policy committee of the United Steel Workers (C.I.O.) said it would call for strike action in a similar connection, the Government's conciliation service predicted in Washington that strikes would drop to "near normal" numbers within three weeks.

But in Detroit, the National Labor Relations Board announced that Chrysler Corporation workers had voted 19,870 to 2,358 in favor of a general wage increase of 30 per cent.

And in Pittsburgh, Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. and the United Steel Workers, said he hoped to have strike vote petitions filed with proper Government authorities no later than Monday. He said they would cover 766 companies and 643,395 members of 1,642 local unions.

The optimism in Washington, in the face of these developments, stemmed from several factors. A report before the conciliation service said that settlements were achieved in strikes involving 103,000 workers in the week ended Wednesday, October 24, while new strikes in that period took fewer than half as many off the job.

Belfast Stevedores Join Dock Strike

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—Twelve hundred Belfast stevedores quit work today in sympathy with the unauthorized strike by more than 41,000 British dock workers, and the Government sent additional thousands of troops to major ports to unload food ships.

Dockers at meetings in London and Liverpool—storm centres of the strike—voted not to return to work until the Government intervened. The strikers have voted no confidence in the heads of the Dockers Union of the Transport and General Workers Union, but there has yet been no indication the Government would attempt a direct settlement.

The strikers are demanding a 40-hour week and a pay rise averaging eight shillings (about $1.80) a day.

Recognize Rights Of German States

BERLIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Soviet Union has formally recognized the right of German states in the Russian occupation zone to make their own laws and ordinances. An order issued by Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov contained only one qualification: The German legislation must not be contrary to laws and orders of the Allied Control Council or those of its own headquarters.

BULL ON RAMPAGE

ELIZABETH, N.J., Oct. 26 (AP)—An 1,800-pound bull, armed with ten-inch horns, escaped the abattoir yesterday and gave 11 policemen an hour's chase before it was slain. Police said they fired 25 bullets into the infuriated beast before they brought it down.

Commandos "Standing Down" After Colorful War Service

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—With disbanding of the Commandos the most colorful and daring unit of the British army during the second Great War will disappear, leaving an enduring record of heroism and daring almost without parallel in military annals.

The green beret of the Commandos became a mark of valor in operations against enemy-held beaches from Norway to Normandy, from Bizerte to Burma. Now the green beret, which the Commandos wore in action in preference to the steel helmet, will be withdrawn.

When Maj.-Gen. R. E. (Lucky) Laycock, chief of combined operations, told 1,000 Commandos at Hove, Sussex, this week that they were to be disbanded, he said: "There has never been a finer fighting force in the history of Britain. To me, the greatest word in the English language will always be Commando."

Gen. Laycock spoke with special feeling for he led the Commandos into battle himself. He led a commando brigade with distinction in the Sicily landing, protecting the left flank of the 1st Canadian Division.

His tribute will find quick response from any British and Canadian fighting man who has a deep soldier's respect for the spirited Commandos.

In the grey days of 1940, after the British expeditionary force had been thrown off the continent of Europe, Britain began to form the Commandos in deepest secrecy. They all were volunteers. They knew their work would be the most hazardous undertaken by the army at that time, for they were to be offensive exclusively of defence.

Plan Start in Ocean Barrel

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 26 (CP)—Scanning the skies for a break in the weather, 29-year-old Mark Charlton, who plans to sail the Atlantic in a barrel, made ready for the start of his epic tour, probably Monday.

With the English-born tool-maker, and former resident of Toronto and Vancouver, will go 62-year-old Peter Olson, Norwegian sealer and sail-maker who wants to work his way across the ocean the hard way to see his homeland for the first time in 45 years.

The strange ocean-going bark—a ten-foot barrel made of heavy oak staves—was launched here a week ago, and since then Charlton and his "first mate" have been trying it out for seaworthiness and learning how best to navigate it.

Fitted with a heavy keel and a brief superstructure, the barrel boat is reported highly satisfactory by Charlton and the sea-wise Norwegian, and Charlton hopes to make the trans-Atlantic crossing in 40 days if the wind—and his luck—holds out.

Increase Guards Over Jailed Nazis

NUERNBERG, Oct. 26 (AP)—Additional soldiers were requisitioned today to guard the 22 major Nazi war criminals in Nuernberg jail after the suicide of Robert Ley, former German labor chief.

"One guard for every four cells was always considered sufficient but now there will be a guard for each defendant," said Col. B. C. Andrus.

BACK TO STANDARD TIME

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Chicago only major city in the United States not yet reconverted to standard time will get in step with the rest of the country Sunday when it returns to central standard schedules. The city will abandon daylight saving time for the first time since February 9, 1942. Daylight saving time is one hour ahead of standard.

A number of David Spencer, Ltd. employees who served in the armed forces were greeted with applause when introduced at Spencer's Sports and Social Club annual banquet in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on Thursday night.

Under chairmanship of W. E. Bond, club president, the event was attended by J. W. Spencer, honorary president, presented W. C. Thomson, chairman of the Sick Benefit Association, with a cheque for $2,000.

Ross, wife of the founder and first president of the club; Oliver Prentice, manager of Spencer's Dunlop branch; Miss Bateman; Miss Mitchell; W. C. Thomson, Mr. Henderson; Mr. Millar; T. Groom and W. E. Akenhead.

The Wightman Trophy for the club's champion golfer went to W. S. Dierks, who was prevented by illness from attending. Cecil Heaton led community singing, and the Red Triangle Concert Party of the Y.M.C.A. appeared. A dance followed.

General Walks Out On Inquiry Court

SYDNEY, Oct. 26 (CP)—Lt. Gen. H. Gordon Bennett, commander of Australian forces in Malaya when it fell to the Japanese, walked out of a secret Australian Army court of inquiry today as it prepared to investigate his escape from Malaya.

"I considered it would not be proper for my reputation and future to be left in the hands of the present tribunal," he declared.

Gen. Bennett said in a prepared 2,500-word statement that he remained with his Australian 8th Division until shortly after hostilities had ceased. He said he had not obtained permission from the British commander-in-chief in Malaya, Lt. Gen. A. E. Percival, to escape, because "Gen. Percival had already surrendered his forces to the Japanese and therefore had relinquished his authority."

HOW OUR "Fish Dollar" IS DIVIDED

SEASON 1944-45

62.8c Paid to Fishermen & Employees

29.9c Paid for Supplies and Services

Depreciation 2.5c Taxes 1.8c Net Profit 2.5c

British Columbia is easily the greatest fish-producing province in Canada. The value of its annual sea harvest reaches $35,000,000 and accounts for approximately 48% of Canada's total fish production.

The Coast fishing industry supports 18,000 men and women and their families, and through the purchase of equipment and supplies, pours further huge sums into the community.

How the "fish dollar" circulates is illustrated above. Out of every dollar received by our organization from the sale of its fish products for the past financial year:

62.8c was paid to fishermen and employees.
29.9c was paid for supplies and services.
2.5c went into depreciation—a source of funds for replacement of fleets and plants.
1.8c went into taxes.
2.5c was net profit—available as a business maintenance reserve and for distribution to about 1400 shareholders in Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

Britain Must Increase Exports, Canada Has To Buy Abroad

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 (CP)—Canada's trade position is, to a considerable extent, the reverse of the position in which the United Kingdom finds herself nowadays, trade officials said here today.

British leaders are impressing on their people that Britain must greatly increase their exports if they are to have exchange which to pay for the urgently needed goods they must import from abroad. Gone are the prewar days when the United Kingdom could sit back and make up the difference, when exports fell below imports, by the earnings of her investments abroad.

The war eliminated much of Britain's investments, particularly in the "hard money" countries such as Canada and the United States. If she is to pay for goods bought in Canada and the United States she must sell goods for dollars.

Canada, on the other hand, must buy from Britain if she is to get paid for what she sells to Britain. Consequently, although she will continue to develop an aggressive campaign for foreign trade, she also is planning to place much greater emphasis than hitherto on getting Canadians to buy more abroad, particularly from Britain.

With this object in view Canada is building up an import division in her trade department which already has begun a survey to see what goods Britain can export to this country. Canadian trade officials are preparing to work hand-in-hand with the British officials boosting exports.

In the last year of peace, 1938,

Royal Navy comes to Royal. Greatest show ever to come to Victoria. Orchestra, Dance Band, 22 leading British Radio and Stage Stars, all active servicemen of the Royal Navy. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Matinee Wednesday, Box office open Monday, 10 a.m.

Canada sold Britain $404,411,682 worth of goods and bought only $145,008,771 from the United Kingdom. There is every indication that Britain will need considerably more imports from Canada in the coming year than in 1938 because of her shortage, particularly of foodstuffs. Trade experts here express doubt whether Britain can greatly increase its exports to Canada above the 1938 level, at least immediately. British trade officials who recently visited Canada told officials here Britain would be unable to come into the Canadian market on a big scale until she was able to reduce costs of manufacture and that might take a year.

At present Canada has price ceilings on many commodities Britain is accustomed to ship to this country and under their present production costs British exporters are finding difficulty in getting under those ceilings. The visitors expressed the view that production costs would come down next year. In the meantime the question of ceilings is understood to be receiving consideration by the Canadian Government.

View Chinese Art At Lions Meeting

Chinese paintings of exceptional merit were shown to the Lions Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday by Chang K'un-i, adopted daughter of the late artist-sage, Kao Weng, and a distinguished artist in her own right.

Lulu Wing Su, owner of a collection of Kao Weng paintings, who accompanies Miss Chang K'un-i on her tour, spoke on Chinese art before the paintings were shown. In contrast to other arts, he said: "Only painting can give facts, feeling, and shape, and completely capturing the spirit of a transient moment." A man had to have a wide educational background before he was accepted as an artist in China, he explained.

"Painting is not a mere art, but a comprehensive institution of culture and education, much valued by ancient leaders," the speaker said, explaining how symbolic paintings had influenced Chinese history. He stated Japanese art was a pale copy of the Chinese.

The paintings shown here have been seen at major galleries throughout Canada. The work of both Kao Weng and Miss Chang K'un-i, they depict birds, animals and flowers. Miss Chang is at present sketching birds in the Provincial Museum.

Overseas Airmen On Loan Target

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—The R.C.A.F. overseas over-subscribed its $1,900,000 target for Canada's Ninth Victory Loan during the first two days of the official sales campaign, it was announced tonight.

Orders topping the target figure by "several thousand dollars" have been received and overseas headquarters officials said they were confident that the $2,000,000 mark would be reached "at any moment now."

Thousands of "men and women in the air force were reported investing their service gratuities in Victory Bonds."

The spirit of a transient moment. A man had to have a wide educational background before he was accepted as an artist in China, he explained.

Steady Decrease In Vacant Jobs

Continuation of the steady decrease of employment vacancies here is shown in a report issued yesterday by C. A. Mudge, manager, employment service of the National Unemployment Insurance Commission.

This week's vacancies are broken down as follows: Men, logging, 73; service workers, 60; construction, 40; unskilled labor, 110. Women, service workers, 70; laundry workers, 20; clerical workers, 30.

Canadian schools are making increasing use of films, film strips, still photographs, and displays about Canada distributed by the National Film Board.

Y.M.C.A. Members Honor Founders

Past and present members of the Y.M.C.A. gathered last night to observe Founders' Day, and to hear reports on the annual membership campaign now under way.

Frank Pennington, secretary, announced 149 new members, representing $1,221, had been gained since the drive opened early this week. He explained details of the campaign, mentioning red, white and blue divisions, responsible for the signing up of new members. Red division, headed by S. J. D. Clark, is now in the lead. Object of the drive is 400 new members.

W. T. Straith, president, outlined progress made by the Y.M.C.A. since its founding 101 years ago by Sir George Williams. He remarked on the organization's war record, and welcomed veterans present.

Speaking of the Victoria Y.M.C.A., Mr. Straith reported 735,785 servicemen of all forces had used facilities of the building during the war years. Special guest attending the affair was 90-year-old George Bone, a member of the Y.M.C.A. for the past 75 years. He spoke briefly. Other pioneer members attending included J. V. Johnson, Peter McKeechie, E. White and J. Heritage.

Japs Question Allied Orders

TOKYO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Japanese today questioned the propriety of Allied orders to disband their diplomatic network abroad, while Allied headquarters expressed ignorance of the prospective arrival of British and other troops to share in the occupation of this conquered country.

Disbandment of the Japanese diplomatic and consular services—long notorious among the Allies as fronts for spies—was ordered by General MacArthur yesterday on instructions from the joint chiefs of staff in Washington. The order included surrender of physical properties and archives abroad.

Today the Domei agency said Foreign Office officials intended to ask Allied authorities whether this unprecedented step conformed with the Potsdam Declaration under which Japan surrendered.

The agency said that as soon as hostilities ceased the Allies had "requested" cessations of relations with neutral powers but Japan regarded this as inconsistent with the Potsdam Declaration and therefore had continued to maintain relations with Switzerland, Sweden, Portugal, Elre, Afghanistan and the Vatican.

There also are Japanese diplomats still residing in Spain, Argentina, Romania and Turkey.

While Domei said the Government intended to "exercise great care" in following the disbandment order, it clearly indicated a policy of procrastination by adding that the Foreign Office was going to "sound out" occupation authorities on the whole question.

General MacArthur's headquarters, professing lack of any knowledge of reports that British forces were to arrive in Tokyo January 1 to aid in the occupation, said the entire matter of participation by British, Russian and Chinese troops awaited final determination of policy in Washington.

cent Segur, who was running for re-election. Commenting on the Coalition victory, Premier Hart said "the people have turned their back on Socialism," adding the voters were convinced improved conditions can be achieved "within the structure of free enterprise and private initiative."

Mr. Winch said that only a combination of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties prevented a C.C.F. victory and that this amalgamation had made the present political situation in British Columbia a clear "fight between private ownership and a people's government."

Coalition candidates received 1,971 votes and C.C.F. candidates 1,697 votes in servicemen's ballots from overseas and from other provinces in Canada. Tabulations from London, Halifax, Toronto and Regina, representing the four voting areas outside the province, were received in Victoria yesterday by cable and telegraph.

Still to be counted are the ballots cast at military polls in British Columbia and the votes of unregistered servicemen and discharges who voted under special regulations. These ballots will not be counted until mid-November, when the final count is made for each riding.

Apart from Coalition and C.C.F. ballots, service votes received yesterday were divided as follows: Labor Progressive, 230; Social Credit, 47; Labor, 9; People's C.C.F., 26; Independent, 6; Progressive Conservative, 3; Socialist Labor, 9; Independent Liberal, 12, and Democrat, 9.

A total of 2,523 votes were reported from London, 554 from Halifax, 419 from Toronto, and 528 from Regina.

For the most part the servicemen learned toward the C.C.F., but there was no decisive trend in results to date. Just how the still uncounted votes may affect the election from this point forward is uncertain. There may be changes in some of the extremely close contests.

Movement Orders

Victoria's Canadian Scottish Regiment is part of the 3rd Canadian Infantry Division which has been issued movement orders that will start large sections of personnel of the formation on the way home between October 30 and November 15.

The 3rd Division was Canada's representative in the "D" Day assault on enemy-held Europe, and later earned the nickname "Water-Rats" for outstanding work in flooded Holland.

The Canadian Scottish, according to movement orders, are slated to start the homeward journey on November 11 along with the Royal Winnipeg Rifles.

A total of 8,921 men, including 465 officers, will leave Nijmegen during the first two weeks of November, out of a total of 12,200 personnel, according to army officials. The rest of the division will start the Holland-United Kingdom trip later.

Present Certificates

Lt. Gen. E. C. Ashton, medical officer of District II, Civil Defense, presented Civil Defense certificates at a meeting in Margaret Jenkins School last night.

G. A. A. Heben, district warden, expressed appreciation of the work of Lt. Gen. Ashton and the following: T. O. McKay, deputy district warden; Eric Burton, John Kyle, Harold F. Hepburn, A. W. Walker, H. J. Seals, sector leaders; S. Porter, Jack C. Wilcox and P. Oliver, deputy sector leaders, and many others.

cent Segur, who was running for re-election.

Commenting on the Coalition victory, Premier Hart said "the people have turned their back on Socialism," adding the voters were convinced improved conditions can be achieved "within the structure of free enterprise and private initiative."

Mr. Winch said that only a combination of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties presented a C.C.F. victory and that this amalgamation had made the present political situation in British Columbia a clear "fight between private ownership and a people's government."

Coalition candidates received 1,971 votes and C.C.F. candidates 1,697 votes in servicemen's ballots from overseas and from other provinces in Canada. Tabulations from London, Halifax, Toronto and Regina, representing the four voting areas outside the province, were received in Victoria yesterday by cable and telegraph.

Still to be counted are the ballots cast at military polls in British Columbia and the votes of unregistered servicemen and discharges who voted under special regulations. These ballots will not be counted until mid-November, when the final count is made for each riding.

Apart from Coalition and C.C.F. ballots, service votes received yesterday were divided as follows: Labor Progressive, 230; Social Credit, 47; Labor, 9; People's C.C.F., 26; Independent, 6; Progressive Conservative, 6; Independent Progressive Conservative, 3; Socialist Labor, 9; Independent Liberal, 12; and Democrat, 9.

A total of 2,532 votes were reported from London, 554 from Halifax, 419 from Toronto, and 526 from Regina.

For the most part the servicemen leaned toward the C.C.F., but there was no decisive trend in results to date. Just how the still uncounted votes may affect the election from this point forward is uncertain. There may be changes in some of the extremely close contests.

"I guess you have heard most of the stories about how we were treated," said Pte. E. G. A. Grantham, Winnipeg. "I want to say, no matter how bad they were, they were probably true. In order to get food our camp had to kill about 150 snakes a day. Many of the men ate dogs, cats, frogs, rats, roots, grass and almost anything else they could lay their hands on."

The Verdict

Canada knows today the verdict that British Columbia electors gave so decisively at the polls on Thursday. It was the rejection of Socialism, and an endorsement of human advance by means of free enterprise and responsible private initiative. That, we suggest, was the greatest single factor in the election. It is natural for the returned Administration to magnify the influence the Coalition platform may have had in the contest, and that, in some sense at least, is already being done. The Administration, however, should examine the vote in rural areas, where the public utilities plank, shaped for those areas, cost the Coalition what seats it did lose. That seems to us significant.

In his post-election statement, on the night of the Coalition's handsome victory, Premier John Hart said this:

"The citizens have endorsed the manifesto of the Coalition Government, giving a clear signal to proceed without delay with the development program which has been planned for this province," he said. "In this regard I can assure the people that there will be no delay and that we shall push forward our program so that there will be brought about a new era of prosperity, with high income and full employment such as British Columbia has never experienced before."

"There is no question but what the people have turned their backs on Socialism. They are convinced, I feel sure, that social reform, improved labor conditions and social security can be achieved and brought into effect within the structure of free enterprise and private initiative."

Private Initiative

The people of British Columbia are not looking for wonders. They know that wars have to be paid for, and that difficult times must be combated after six years of turmoil. The Administration is standing on sound ground when it recognizes in the public vote a denial of regimentation and an all-powerful state, and when it recognizes the confirmed predilection of British Columbians for advance, as Mr. Hart says, "within the structure of free enterprise and private initiative."

The Coalition has been given a mandate, but it is not an unlimited one. Plank 35, for example, will need to be argued out with the Twenty-First Legislature, where the people have sent their chosen representatives, and there will be much to debate. The people have chosen a Legislature and endorsed an Administration, but they have not swallowed any platform to the last morsel: least of all the acquisition of the British Columbia Electric Railway holdings, with a doubling of provincial debt. Nor, indeed, would that be "free enterprise and private initiative," but the very reverse.

There is a long, hard pull ahead of this province. The Government have yet to demonstrate what will happen in the turn of Dominion-Provincial relations respecting revenues and obligations. Rehabilitation is becoming the chief concern of the day. Housing, hospitalization, schooling, roads and works all have their separate claims to attention. British Columbia will do well to keep its feet on the ground, and to leave high flights to others. As we say, the people are not looking for miracles, but for a steady and quiet advance wherever this Province finds it possible to move forward at all. In the last analysis, the measure of power granted to the continuing regime is held in trust.

Across Canada

Across Canada this week the Ninth Victory Loan has been setting a faster pace than any of its ten predecessors, eight Victory Loans and two War Loans. That implies a realization on the part of the Canadian people that there is much to be done before swords can be beaten into ploughshares, and jeeps become pleasure cars on Canadian roads. If any reminder were needed, we would have it in the further arrival at this port yesterday of H.M.S. Glory, with some 1,300 repatriated service men, and 140 cot cases in sick bay. Among the stretcher patients were amputation cases, maltreated by the enemy before but under tender care now. That, too, is part of Canada's story: service regardless of the cost in individual sacrifice.

Here on Vancouver Island, the Ninth Victory Loan is going well. Something better than $4,000,000 has been subscribed already among approximately 150,000 people in all Island communities, including the Gulf Islands. Victoria has found more than half of that sum, holding its place in this loan, as it has done in all previous appeals by the Dominion. But figures mean little. It is the willingness of service, and the extent of that subscription within individual means, that will count in the long run. It is not a question of how much money can be invested—although Mr. Halsey will be interested in that—but how much help can be developed for the needs of this nation now.

Across Canada, the answer to that question is being given. From a most encouraging start, the Ninth Victory Loan is footing it well. Nothing has happened to the spirit and the fire of the Canadian people. They are still thinking in terms of the real task to be done. That task will be done. Taxation on the one hand, and public subscription by investment on the other, can and will work out Canada's postwar problems. It is the safe and the sane way. There are times, besides, when Canada's spirit in action is spectacular, and we think that here is a case in point. For a small nation, we both can and do achieve much.

War's Aftermath

The risk to shipping in United Kingdom waters from mines—ours and the enemy's—cast free from the bed of the ocean by storm must be a real one. It is no wonder that great liners, needed for the repatriation of tens of thousands of troops, remain at anchorage while a storm blows itself out. Southampton, according to news reports, experienced a 90-mile-an-hour gale this week, with considerable risk to shipping and damage to small vessels. A hospital ship was adrift for hours until her anchors caught and held.

Clearing the mines from navigable waters may prove to be a long task. They were laid by the tens of thousands in certain areas. The task is an orderly and progressive one where charts exist of these minefields, but with many of the German minefields this is not the case. Also, scores of mines were laid by the enemy at random. For some years to come, probably, the world will be picking up these dangerous castaways and rendering them harmless. Inevitably, also, there will be the odd mischance, perhaps with human toll.

Through ironical coincidence, Germany herself may suffer much in this situation. Her coastal waters were most heavily mined. World shipping will avoid all save the clearly marked channels, those navigable passages which have been swept and reswept by the minesweepers. The same problem must be a serious one for France, Belgium, Holland and Norway, and only slightly less so in the Mediterranean and the Baltic Seas. But one day the waters of the earth will be free again, with all that they can mean to the passage of commerce and thought between land and land. One dislikes to think of a good ship in risk from such a lingering, hidden foe.

Another Coward Exits

Dr. Robert Ley, substitute Jew-baiter and labor czar in Nazi Germany, has joined the number of those Nazis who have taken the coward's way out. It will make small difference to the world whether such men, notorious only in infamy, bow themselves out, or are tried and dealt with upon conviction. They stand self-accused by the grim exit, by the running away from the life they chose and led.

Bullies ever were like that. Their courage ebbs when they lose the whip they held over the unfortunate and the weak. Divested of authority, lacking a secret police or an army to back them up, they turn out to be less than ordinary human beings, mere apologies for men in many instances. Of such was the deputy torturer and feeble bully who ended his life in Allied hands yesterday. He was not a martyr. He was not even of normal stature among the sub-human species which the Nazis attempted to develop, but a poltroon caught in the act.

Seen in Passing

Mr. Churchill has been awarded five campaign medals by His Majesty, and there is none to whom the British Empire would rather see them go. Great Britain's warrior leader has been given the 1939-45 Star, the Africa Star, the Italy Star, the France and Germany Star, and the Defence Medal. Truly he earned them all, with 50,000 miles of war emergency flying and more energy than a regiment of men. A special significance, however, will attach to Mr. Churchill's Defence Medal. History may record that Mr. Churchill was the liveliest and surest defence of all in a world that nearly submerged. This figure, the "Winnie" of the battlements, the rooftop and the broken quays of Great Britain, will never fade from memory wherever freedom sings in the heart.

Greater Victoria, it would seem, has reasonable ground for objection with regard to federal handling of the income tax returns in this province. Twenty employees, no matter how courteous and hard-working, in a "branch" tax office here cannot give the equivalent service that 600 employees do at the Vancouver tax "division." The proof is that Victorians wait for a year and sometimes longer for any acknowledgment out of Vancouver on the status of what they have paid and why. For a capital city, that is not good enough.

A Superscription

Look in my face; my name is Might-have-been.

I am also called No-more. Too-late. Fare-well.

Unto thine ear I hold the dead-sea shell.

Cast up thy life's foam-tossed feet between.

Unto thine eyes the glass where that is seen.

Which had life's form and Love's, but by my spell.

Is now a shaken shadow intolerable.

Of ultimate things unuttered the frail screen.

Mark me, how still I am! But should there dart

One moment through thy soul the soft surprise

Of that winged Peace which lulls the breath of sighs.

Then shall thou see me smile, and turn apart

Thy visage to mine ambush at thy heart

Sleepless with cold commemorative eyes.

BERLIN, Oct. 26 (By Wireles)

—The "Free German Committee" has died where it was born—in Moscow.

Organized two years ago by Emile German, Communist and prominent war prisoner, it ceased to exist in August when the Soviet Government decided its political usefulness was ended. Its name is still used to sponsor "Freie Deutsche"

Lied—a newspaper printed in German war prisoners in Russia—but its executive members all have been retired or have drifted into other fields of endeavor.

Erich Weinlar, the German poet who founded the organization, has resumed literary work in Moscow where he has lived since before the war. Wilhelm Pieck, who was the political force behind the committee is now in Berlin as leader of the German Communist Party. Its two best known members are General Von Seydlitz and Von Paulus, who, although technically war prisoners, are living in separate villas on the outskirts of Moscow as privileged citizens of the Soviet Union.

Facts concerning the organization and its mysterious demise were revealed today by prominent members of the Communist Party, at least one of whom was intimately connected with the founding of the Free German Committee.

It was formed shortly after the Stalingrad battle, strictly as a propaganda weapon to hasten Germany's defeat. At the time of its founding, Moscow attached no permanent political significance to the committee. Weinlar, Pieck and Von Seydlitz were assigned to hack at civilian morale by a series of broadcasts beamed into Germany, while Von Paulus headed a branch of the organization called "The League of German Officers." Broadcasts by the latter were beamed at front-line German troops and were considered extremely effective in spreading defeatism.

When the German collapse became imminent during the Allied Spring offensive, Moscow decided to continue the Free German Committee and even accorded it a certain political prestige. The reason for this has never been explained, but it is believed Moscow held the committee in readiness to be rushed in as a pro-tem German Government in the event of a revolution on the 1918 pattern. A similar urge to have an ace up the sleeve in case of unexpected developments caused Moscow to hold the committee together during the Potsdam deliberations. When these were successfully concluded, Moscow liquidated the functions of the committee as quietly as possible.

Von Seydlitz's broadcast late in August was the committee's last gasp. It had outlived its usefulness. Nothing more is expected to be heard of it.

Recent arrivals from Moscow reported that Emile German, Von Paulus are living on a luxurious scale by Russian standards, and have no immediate desire to return to Germany. Von Paulus has sufficient reason for remaining in Russia. Belgian authorities investigating war crimes would like to question him on his activities as a divisional commander during the 1940 offensive.

Neither Von Seydlitz nor Von Paulus has embraced Communism. Their adherence to the committee was purely on military grounds. Communists consider they did an excellent job despite their lack of ideological fervor.

The fishery officials also stated at the time as a possible explanation for the occurrence in northern latitudes of fish usually taken much farther south was the "presence of a branch of the warm Japanese Current, which flows in a southerly direction at a distance of 30 to 50 miles offshore, where temperatures are 60 degrees or more, whereas the inshore waters are at least ten degrees colder."

"The migration of albacore," the Bureau stated at the time "are still an unsolved mystery, and so it is not known whether the fish being taken off Oregon and Washington are an independent population or part of the schools already exploited by the California fishery."

It has been noticed that in years when albacore are scarce on the Pacific Coast of the United States they are often plentiful in Hawaii and Japan waters; but there is no proof that these fish migrate across the Pacific. It is believed, however, that the spawning grounds must be a great distance from the coast, for neither eggs nor young have ever been taken.

What part time will play in solving the mystery of the tuna and some other species of fish is something to stimulate our curiosity.

The known facts about the appearance of vast shoals of albacore so far north of their usual haunts are mainly economical. The shoals have fattened many a north coast fisherman's pocketbook since 1936, when a purse seine vessel in search of pilchards and with some of its crew members famished, found abundant shoals of albacore and brought back a couple of thousand pounds of the fish. Later in that year two halibut boats took a catch of 25,000

Active in Loan Drive

Almost doubling the quota set at Ottawa, sales in Pacific Command yesterday reached $1,510,500 in their Ninth Victory Loan drive. Their quota was $791,000, and the volunteers aimed at which the army in this area aimed was $1,314,500. Both figures were passed.

Soldiers at Prince Rupert are leading Pacific Command with more than 400 per cent of their quota, and 100 per cent subscription. In second place is the Vernon-Kamloops area with $168,130, or 270 per cent of the quota.

Present indications are that Pacific Command will far exceed its voluntary objective, officials said, since only 60 per cent of the command strength has been canvassed so far.

Air Lines Men Here

United Air Lines officials who arrived at Patricia Bay last night on a Canadian inspection tour included Harold Cray, vice-president, in charge of traffic; Jack Herlihy, vice-president in charge of operations; and Brian Renwick, district traffic manager, Vancouver. They will remain here until Monday morning.

Victoria Benefits From Tuna Fishery

Frank M. Kelley

During the war tuna fish have been selling around $400 per ton, as British Columbia has discovered.

For some decades past commercial tuna fishing has been one of California's big business industries. Large amounts of money are invested in sea-going equipment and shore establishments, which means employment for a considerable number of men and women. California is the centre for all coast tuna fisheries, with vessels going from California ports into semi-tropical waters in search of the valuable albacore and other varieties; while sundry live interests capitalized on the presence of the tuna in coastal waters and carried pleasure-tuna fishermen to the grounds in suitable boats for a day's sports.

Whether the tuna really became scarcer because of the intensive pursuit of the commercial fishermen, or switched to other feeding grounds, is a matter that has not been clearly established at this time. It is only known that the catch dropped from a high of $3,000,000 pounds to about 2,000,000 pounds in 1935. In the previous year, however, great shoals of the desirable fish were detected off the Oregon and Washington coasts. These shoals were first reported by skippers of merchant ships and venturesome trawlers, causing the United States Bureau of Fisheries to declare the discovery to be "the most remarkable development in the Pacific Coast fisheries."

The fishery officials also stated at the time as a possible explanation for the occurrence in northern latitudes of fish usually taken much farther south was the "presence of a branch of the warm Japanese Current, which flows in a southerly direction at a distance of 30 to 50 miles offshore, where temperatures are 60 degrees or more, whereas the inshore waters are at least ten degrees colder."

"The migration of albacore," the Bureau stated at the time "are still an unsolved mystery, and so it is not known whether the fish being taken off Oregon and Washington are an independent population or part of the schools already exploited by the California fishery."

It has been noticed that in years when albacore are scarce on the Pacific Coast of the United States they are often plentiful in Hawaii and Japan waters; but there is no proof that these fish migrate across the Pacific. It is believed, however, that the spawning grounds must be a great distance from the coast, for neither eggs nor young have ever been taken.

What part time will play in solving the mystery of the tuna and some other species of fish is something to stimulate our curiosity.

The known facts about the appearance of vast shoals of albacore so far north of their usual haunts are mainly economical. The shoals have fattened many a north coast fisherman's pocketbook since 1936, when a purse seine vessel in search of pilchards and with some of its crew members famished, found abundant shoals of albacore and brought back a couple of thousand pounds of the fish. Later in that year two halibut boats took a catch of 25,000

Aircraft carriers and other warcraft are thrown open to the public at Vancouver. In Victoria, the general public is not even allowed to watch such vessels dock unless special passes are obtained. . . . A genius is often a man who can make anything but a good living. . . . book on etiquette published at London, England, in 1883, contained the following passage: "The perfect host will see to it that the works of male and female authors be properly separated on her bookshelves. Their proximity, unless they happen to be married, should not be tolerated." . . . Jaromir Votruba, an immigrant and band leader at Vrova, Czechoslovakia, composed the world-famous song, "Roll Out the Barrel," in 1930 in honor of a pretty girl he met at a dance. . . . Pulheim, the army code word for the physical condition of a soldier, is made up of the following words: "P," physical capacity; "L," upper extremities; "I," locomotion; "H," hearing; "E," eyesight; "M," mental capacity, and "S," stability. Each quality is assessed in five degrees. The British army adopted the system to dispense with the old "A," "B" and "C" categories.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26 (CP)—Dr. John M. Loney, 72, who for 30 years was medical officer for the old Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian National Railways, western region, died today. He retired in 1934. Dr. Loney was born in Montreal and came to Winnipeg in 1903.

Peace Treaty for Italy Being Framed

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—An authoritative source tonight said Britain and the United States have begun preliminary work on drafting an interim peace treaty for Italy, but that it probably would not be signed until after the Italian elections next Spring.

The opinion here is that detailed Russian agreement would not be necessary on the controversial points concerning Italy would be touched upon. This would mean the future of Trieste and Italian colonies, and the question of reparations could be left open until the five-power Foreign Ministers can resume their discussions.

Lashes for Robber

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (CP)—Sentence of 10 lashes and a year in jail was imposed in police court today by Magistrate H. S. Wood on Harvey Dule, 21, who pleaded guilty to a charge of armed robbery of a Vancouver theatre last week.

Inclusion of lashes in the sentence followed by only two days a meeting of Supreme and County Court judges and magistrates where it was decided that heavier penalties should be imposed for violent crimes.

Following the meeting Chief Justice W. B. Farris warned that in future bandits might expect lashes in addition to jail terms.

Their Job is FINISHED... Ours is NOT!

WITH the fighting over, the men and women of Canada's armed forces have finished their job. They have earned a grateful welcome and all the happiness that peace can bring them.

If we are to have a peace-time Canada worthy of them, we must each help to carry the continuing financial burdens that are as much a part of the war as was the fighting itself.

Unless we do so, we shall not achieve the ends for which so many paid so high a price.

Happy Reunion After Four Years

Sgt. Joseph F. Legros, 1179 Granville Street, Vancouver, was too happy yesterday about seeing his wife for the first time in four long years to talk about life in a Japanese prison camp.

One of the first men to disembark from the carrier H.M.S. Glory, which docked here yesterday morning, Sgt. Legros, who has been married 16 years, sought a quiet refuge amid the crowd in a Red Cross station wagon, where he was caught by The Daily Colonist photographer.

looking very happy at the reunion. Asked what he intended to do once he was released from the army, he replied: "I have been thinking over a million things during the past four years, but I guess I will have to talk them over with my wife."

"Your troubles are just beginning," he added, grinning at his wife. His next dream will be fulfilled when he sees his three sons, Kevin, Marvin and Bryan.

Ley, German Labor Boss, Leaves Note Opposing Anti-Semitism

MUNICH, Oct. 26 (CP)—Suicide Robert Ley, in a farewell "political testimony" released today, blamed Nazism's downfall on its vicious anti-Semitism and proposed a plan for Germans and Jews to reach "a complete reconciliation."

Ley, Nazi labor boss who hanged himself to escape a war crimes trial, asserted the Nazis themselves "must declare to our youth that it (anti-Semitism) was a mistake. The youth will not believe our opponents."

In the 1,200-word document, addressed "To my German people," Ley declared the "whole existence of our people is in question" unless anti-Semitism is abolished. Speaking of the grip of Nazi ideas on German youth, he said:

"For the lack of any other ideal, youth will stick to national socialism. The deported Jews will not be able to return to their homes. Occupation troops will leave some day. New political constellations might give Germany new changes... then anti-Semitism would flame up anew and rage much worse than ever before."

Ley said he was "one of the responsible men" who had "a right to appeal to the German people after his singular catastrophe."

The Nazis "have forsaken God and therefore we were forsaken by God."

In a separate suicide note, Ley said: "Farwell! I can't stand this shame any longer."

He said he had been treated all right but "the fact that I should be a criminal—this is what I cannot stand."

Ley had attempted suicide four times before he hanged himself and he prescribed poisoning for his three children before his arrest last May. United States intelligence agents disclosed today.

Ley's secretary, Hildegard Brunnhoff, said he gave her several vials of poison and sent her to the Bavarian Alps with his children last April when the Nazi collapse drew near.

Take this if the Russians close in on you and be certain my children get it," she quoted Ley.

When American troops arrested Ley, an officer knocked a poison capsule from the labor leader's hand before he could cram it into his mouth.

Ley told interrogators he had tried unsuccessfully to kill himself on

SWEET POTATOES

Sir,—In order to save disappointment to many would-be growers of sweet potatoes I would like to point out that they are not grown at all like the Irish potatoes. Sweet potatoes are grown from greenhouse or hotbed started plants, cold framed and set to the open field in the same way that tomato plants are grown.

They cannot be raised by planting the tubers themselves in the field. The method I follow is the accepted one followed in all the southern sweet potato areas. If planted like Irish potatoes, a rather peculiar but valueless result is obtained, suffice to say that I have tried it both in the Okanagan and here and always had a similar result. Since your caption in The Colonist of October 17, so many persons have contacted me and mentioned the intention of planting tubers next Spring that I feel it only fair to make this matter clear.

H. H. THOMPSON,
Box 102, Gordon Head Road, Saanich, B.C., October 23, 1945.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

Sir,—The Daily Colonist and other Canadian newspapers could render another valuable service to the veterans of this war—help them into business for themselves by enlisting the good services of residents of rural areas. Example: I live 20 miles from Victoria. In my rural district there is need of a machine shop to repair pumps, etc., with plumbing and radio repairs on the side. A butcher shop is also needed.

If the newspapers of Canada would make the appeal, I am sure hundreds of similar opportunities would be discovered. We of the

THEIR JOB IS FINISHED... OURS IS NOT!

WITH the fighting over, the men and women of Canada's armed forces have finished their job. They have earned a grateful welcome and all the happiness that peace can bring them.

If we are to have a peace-time Canada worthy of them, we must each help to carry the continuing financial burdens that are as much a part of the war as was the fighting itself.

Unless we do so, we shall not achieve the ends for which so many paid so high a price.

Motor Coach Makes Utility Home

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sobey live in what might be called a "roaming house"—a 32-seat motor coach without the motor and with good tires on all six wheels. In it they can roam where they will, on tow.

They were bombed out of their house at Margate, so Mr. Sobey bought a smart blue motor coach, took out the seats and sold them, installed a neat little kitchen stove and set up their home at Lewisham, Southwest London.

"Once you've lived in one of these," said Mrs. Sobey, a former circus performer, "you don't want a house. It's warmer in winter and in summer we cook on an oil stove outdoors.

"The windows slide down so it's easy to get fresh air when you want it."

Soon the Sobeyes hope to be on the move again. They are looking for a new site to park their home, preferably in the more bracing air on the Kentish coast.

Next Spring they may move their "roaming house" into the warm sunny places of Hampshire.

Fred MacMurray in Hilarious Comedy

Despite Joan Leslie's apparent sympathy, Fred MacMurray seems to be tired of it all in "Where Do We Go From Here?" the hilarious 20th Century-Fox madcap Technicolor musical now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

St. John Ambulance Brigade Activities

Preparedness of members of St. John Ambulance Nursing Division for any kind of emergency work has been fully demonstrated since the repatriates from the Japanese internment camps first began to land in Victoria, at the beginning of October. Besides the ordinary voluntary duties of nursing, etc., which they carry out in peacetime as well as in war, they have been called upon to serve at a moment's notice in the military hospitals as nursing aides, sewing at Gordon Head and Macaulay, and the ambulances have met all boats to do any transport work necessary.

Officers and N.C.O.'s of the nursing divisions of St. John Ambulance Brigade arranged a course in toy making, to be given by Miss Dorothy Lowe for cadets or any members of divisions who would like to enroll. First class will be held on Wednesday, November 7, from 2 to 4, at 1230 Government Street. Interesting letters were read from Miss Meluhah and Miss Kemp, who are doing V.A.D. work in India. Miss Moira May, a member of the Jubilee Division, who is also in India, has been moved from Bangalore to Singapore.

A home nursing class has been started and will be held every Friday at 8 p.m. in the Red Cross Room, 217 Pemberton Building, at 8 p.m.

Ambulance Division No. 65 will meet on Thursday in the Public Market Building at 8 p.m.

Victoria Nursing Division No. 61 and Lorne - Drum Nursing and Transport Division will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. at headquarters.

Cadets No. 61C will meet on the same day at 6:30 p.m.

Denton Holmes Nursing Division No. 148 will meet on Tuesday at 8 p.m. and Cadets No. 148C will meet on the same day at 6:30 p.m.

A. J. Dallain Nursing Division No. 210 will meet on Friday at 8 p.m. at headquarters.

Oak Bay Nursing Division No. 176 will meet on Thursday at 2 p.m. and Oak Bay Cadets will meet on Friday at 4 p.m. at 2165 Oak Bay Avenue.

At the Theatres

The Trapp Family at the Royal Tonight

It was the beloved Austrian soprano, Lotte Lehmann, who heard the Trapp Family sing in their Salzburg home several years ago and advised them to start a professional career. Under the direction of their gifted composer-conductor, Dr. Franz Wanner, they developed rapidly, built a repertoire of over 200 works and planned their first European tour. This took them through France, England, Belgium, Austria and Italy.

Their singing and playing entranced every audience and held them in their seats through long lists of encores. Whether they sang on some quiet college campus, or against the tumult of a busy-busy metropolis, they set imaginations to work and transported their hearers to distant lands to recall an age gone by.

The Trapp Family singers and instrumentalists will appear on the Hilker Attractions Concert Series tonight at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

ATLAS Entertainment and Theatre are deftly blended in "It's a Pleasure!" International's starring vehicle for Sonja Henie, which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre. The offering in Technicolor presents the stormy love affair of two professional skaters against a spectacular background of dazzling ice routines and hockey games. Michael O'Shea has the masculine lead and Marie McDonald, Bill Johnson and Gus Schilling co-star.

CADET "Patrick the Great" is THEATRE the 10th picture starring Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan. It is the first in which the story allows Peggy to snare Donald romantically for her own. In other films she always lost him to the other girls, or else was cast as his sister. This entertaining feature ends tonight at the Cadet Theatre.

CAPITOL Lionel Barrymore portrays Greer Garson's father in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's important "The Valley of Decision" in which Gregory Peck is co-starred at the Capitol Theatre. Greer plays Mary Rafferty, Irish girl who as a servant for William Scott, Pittsburgh steel tycoon, falls in love with William's son. Also in the cast of "The Valley of Decision" are Donald Crisp, Marsha Hunt, Gladys Cooper, Preston Foster and Reginald Owen.

DOMINION Introducing a brilliant new concept in motion picture musicals, "Where Do We Go From Here?" the sparkling Technicolor hit starring Fred MacMurray, Joan Leslie and June Haver, is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. The celebrated Broadway hit team of Ira Gershwin and Kurt Weill have provided a scintillating score of unusual lyrics and music for the picture.

RIO For the first time Bob Crosby appears in a film without the support of his orchestra. It is a straight acting role in Universal's musical western, "The Singing Sheriff," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre. Others in the cast of "The Singing Sheriff" are Fay McKenzie, Edward Norris, Fuzzy Knight, Andrew Tombes, Joe Sawyer, plus Spade Cooley and his orchestra.

CJVI NEWS

Your truly was thoroughly kidded yesterday for not getting his copy of the paper on time and consequently suffering the ignominy of trying to start a one-man election campaign. As much to life and elections. It appears that there will be no four-ball broadcast today and in place we will carry the usual C.B.C. afternoon schedule.

This morning, CJVI will be swarming with high school students, as the staff take the first year and second year students the rudiments of broadcasting. You will hear a few new voices from 9 till 12 but other than that there will be no apparent change to the listening audience (we hope).—Val.

Producer Felix Jackson engaged Howard Greer to make 18 ultra smart street and evening gowns for the star to parade before the camera.

YORK Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main, those perennial team-mates are at it again in the comedy ending tonight at the York. The film "Rationing" is a hilarious poke at the troubles encountered by storekeepers under the point rationing system. But, it must be remembered, it is all in fun.

According to Culbertson

There are many situations that constitute natural traps for players of average skill. Today's deal illustrates one of these.

North, dealer. Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
A 10 9
A Q J
A 8 7 3

WEST EAST
6 5 3 2
K 3 2 Q J 8 7 5
K 8 7 6 3 10 5 4 2
J 9 4 A Q 10

SOUTH
K Q 10 8 7 4
W 5 4
D K 6 5 2

The bidding:
North East South West
2 NT Pass 4 A Pass
4 NT Pass 5 A Pass
Pass Pass

North was correct in giving up his 150 aces to let South play at a six-spade contract. Six no trump would have been impossible against reasonably sound defence, whereas six spades should have presented little difficulty.

If West had happened to open a heart South would have been put to a guess—which way to finesse for the diamond-king was to get rid of a heart—but West made no such second sighted lead, and on his actual selection of a trump, declarer had clear sailing—or rather, he should have had. Trumps dropped in two leads; then declarer cashed the diamond ace and led the queen through East. When the latter failed to come up with the king (not unreasonably), South discarded a heart. West won, and though diamond jack was now good for a club discard, that was worth precisely nothing to the dealer. He still had to concede a club trick—and his contract.

South's method of diamond leading was made quite all right—it was just a guess as to where the king lay—but his discard on the diamond queen, which he passed, was 100 per cent wrong! Whether the queen won or lost, the right discard was a club. Suppose it lost. Then West's heart return would be taken by the ace, another club would go off on the diamond jack, and declarer would cash the king and ace of clubs. Now a club ruff would set up dummy's fourth club for the heart discard.

The "natural trap" lay in the fact that South couldn't see the value of discarding from his four-card suit.

Last Week of Food Meetings

QUEBEC, Oct. 26 (CP)—The United Nations food and agriculture organization conference today entered what is expected to be its last week in preparation of the proclamation which the permanent machinery will be launched.

The ten committees preparing different segments of the program were reported to be working in exceptional harmony, with only occasional dispute over questions of procedure on marketing plans and the handling of surpluses.

Throughout all the delegations, Chairman L. B. Pearson said yesterday, there is complete unanimity on the desire to integrate the work of FAO with the general structure to be built about the United Nations Organization. But this does not mean that FAO's operations will await completion of the U.N.O. set-up, or that it would not go forward if the U.N.O. operations are delayed.

TOPPERS OUT

LONDON (CP)—Boys of Westminster School are not wearing the top hats and tail coats long familiar to Londoners. Since the school returned to Westminster after evacuation to Herefordshire, school authorities have decided in favor of grey flannel suits.

Your Daily Forecast

By EDWARD A. WAGNER

PLANETARY GUIDE FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1945

Keywords for the Day: Conservation, peace, inspiration.

Saturday in General—Prior to 8:30 p.m. Saturday is best used for completing odds and ends of tasks which have accumulated. Proceed on a conservative, practical basis. Steer clear of tangents or inharmonies. The evening is more favorable than not and is a good time for relaxation, rest, a nice and "quiet" time. Inspiration and ideas will not be lacking.

If October 27 is Your Birthdate: "Many happy returns." Famous persons born on this date include John Bole, Left Erikson, movie actors, Theu Roosevelt, president of U.S.A.

Your Year Ahead—Ambitions, parental, business or professional interests are spotlighted, and in this respect you can make progress if you proceed quietly, cautiously, unobtrusively. Be extra tactful in dealing with parents and higher-ups, however.

Mulberry, the model of the floating harbor used in the liberation of Europe and now touring Canada, is second only to the atom bomb as a miracle that helped win this war.

To Hold Last Rites

Private funeral services for the late Mrs. Katie Dyke Pope, who died on Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Spencer, 2908 Cook Street, will be held in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel today, with Rev. F. Pike officiating. Cremation will take place.

The widow of Rasmus C. Pope, Mrs. Pope was born in Gloucestershire, England and lived in Victoria for 30 years. Besides her daughter, she leaves one son, W. R. Pope, and three grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

PENNY SERENADE

MANCHESTER, England (CP)—The series of "penny serenade" symphony concerts at Twickenham Park are to continue. Working in the afternoon, the three already held in evening, the series is a change in a concert program.
